

Curriculum Vitae - Jonatan Forsberg (June 24th, 1981)

March 2014 – August 2019	Medical Doctor, Neurology Residency, Departments of Neurology, Neurosurgery and Neurophysiology at Odense University Hospital (OUH), Denmark. Departments of Neurology and Psychiatry at Esbjerg Hospital. Department of Neurorehabilitation, Svendborg Hospital.
September 2013 – February 2014	Medical Doctor, Department of Internal Medicine. Svendborg Hospital.
September 2012 – August 2013	Medical Doctor at General Practitioner Rene Milling Eriksen's surgery in Faaborg and at Lægerne Willemoesvej Doctor's Practice in Svendborg, Denmark.
July – August 2012	Medical Doctor, Department of Psychiatry. Vejle Hospital.
July 2012	Prison doctor at three detention centres on Jutland, Denmark.
March 2011 – June 2012	Medical Doctor, Emergency Department and Department of Psychiatry. Kolding Hospital, Denmark. Including paternity leave.
December 2009 – March 2010	Student Doctor, Department of Neurology. OUH.
June – July 2009	Student Doctor, Department of Nephrology. Skövde Hospital, Sweden.
May – August 2009	Student Doctor, Department of Psychiatry. OUH.
2006 – 2009	Work as paediatric intensive care nursing assistant, intensive care nursing assistant and nursing assistant. OUH and the Region of Southern Denmark.

My earlier work experiences include 13 months of being a forklift operator and stock-keeper; production co-worker for an industrial laundry; promoter tasks seven years in a row for a music festival; labour at an organic farm outside Montréal in Québec; advertising and bar work for a club in London; work as a primary school teacher substitute.

Studies:

January 2011	Master of Science, Medicine. University of Southern Denmark.
March 2008	Bachelor of Science, Medicine.
2005 – 2011	Medical School at Umeå University, Sweden, continued at the University of Southern Denmark. Additional philosophical studies.

2002 – 2004	Philosophical studies at Lund University, Sweden, concurrently with secondary school Science.
2001	Core Curriculum of the Liberal Arts from the Department of Philosophy, Lund University: Philosophy of Science, The Historical Development of Sciences, Methodology and a Great Books course on works that has characterised western thought.
2000	Cambridge exam of Proficiency in English from Camden College of English in London.
1997 – 2000	Secondary school at Heleneholmsskolan in Malmö: Drama, social sciences and language.

Apart from the clinical clerkships arranged through the University of Southern Denmark at different hospitals in Denmark I have myself arranged a medical elective at Launceston General Hospital in Tasmania, Australia. In Tasmania I also had a few days with the Royal Flying Doctor Service. Through the International Federation of Medical Students' Associations have I had clinical clerkships at Åbolands Sjukhus in Turku/Åbo, Finland and at Haukeland Sykehus in Bergen, Norway.

Master of Science-paper in form of a literature review (March 2010); "How do incentive structures in the Scandinavian countries' primary health sector affect the work of physicians and the treatment of patients?". A debating article on the subject followed in the Swedish Medical Association's journal Läkartidningen (issue 35, 2010 and the Danish medical journal Ugeskrift for Læger (issue 39, 2012).

Miscellaneous:

Clinical education specialist amongst resident neurologists during my two years at Esbjerg Hospital, which included amongst other tasks the introduction to clinical Neurology of circa 150 resident doctors, being a Neurology tutor and putting together material for clinical guidelines. I was also part of the steering committee for the monthly Staff Meetings, where all physicians at Esbjerg Hospital receive further plenary education.

Member of the board of peer-reviewers for neurological manuscripts for the Swedish medical journal Läkartidningen, published by the Swedish Medical Association.

Former redactional staff member and active participant in the fruition of the Danish national neurological clinical guidelines (nationale Neurologiske Behandlingsvejledninger: nNBV at neuro.dk), under The Danish Neurological Society.

Administrative experience as elected representative for Danish Medical Association during my employment at the Department of Psychiatry, Kolding Hospital.

I am a family father and reside on the countryside on Tåsinge in the South Funen Archipelago.

April – August 2010 Paternity leave.

January – May 2012 Paternity leave.

I have had several periods of double full time of studies and work and studies concurrently. For example did I during my first year at the University of Southern Denmark study 90 ECTS of medicine, at the same time with part-time work as a nursing assistant work and a few philosophical ECTS at Lund University.

Travels (train) from Scottish Aberdeen to Turkish Istanbul, through most of the new member nations of the European Union, during three months in autumn 2004 and; travels (Greyhoundbus), east to west and back, in North America during autumn and winter 2001. Numerous times of inter-railing and cheap travelling since the age of 16.

Besides my interests in Science and Philosophy: History and Cultural heritage, Literature, Politics, Travels, Cognition, Single Malt Whisky, Nature, Free Will and the c64 Scene.